

Area of Influence

The Area of Influence is defined by the extent to which social and economic mobility north and south of the border affects transportation facilities in the various travel corridors (See map above). For this study, the Area of Influence generally encompasses that portion of New Mexico and Chihuahua within 80 miles of the border.